

"Closer to nature-purity, far from toxicity. Clean." -Last Day Deaf

"With an almost angelic voice, Justin Allen, a.k.a. Endless Forms offers a cinematically scoped piece of brilliance with a sonically beautiful mix of lucid synth and bright electric guitar with a subtle beat giving the listener an almost trance-like state of awakening." -Jimmerzine

FFO: The National, Arcade Fire, Sigur Rós, The XX and Beach House

ENDLESS FORMS

Endless Forms
"Crammed with Heaven" out 17/6/2022
Available One-Stop-Shop
Genre: Indie Rock
Listen here

Song Title: Crammed with Heaven
Artist: Endless Forms
Composers: Justin Allen
Label: DRRT Records
Publisher: North Note Publishing, Joel's Promise
PRO: PRS, BMI
ISRC: USA2P2222809
UPC: 1926922044007
Territory Worldwide

Endless Forms producer and writer Justin Allen has always been in search of something sincere and expansive. Allen began Endless Forms in 2015 with the release of Lazurus, a meditative and searching album self-recorded in Allen's home. Endless Forms' following albums, 2017's If There Were Water and 2020's More Than Candy, both fully produced and engineered by Allen, saw Endless Forms' sound pull slightly more from the ethereal influences of shoegaze and dream pop, evolving into something larger in scope and subtler in execution both in the studio and during live performances, including sound art performances at Living Arts of Tulsa and Philbrook Museum of Art. His new EP set to release in 2022, Electric Heat Hypnotized explores the tension of the artist's search for the sublime ideal, sometimes neglecting the imperfect, real world on a quest to fulfill some ultimate longing for something forever just barely out of reach.

After a short hiatus from releasing music Justin Allen aka Endless Forms announces his comeback is fast approaching and on the 17th of June, "Crammed with Heaven" will be the first track to be revealed from his upcoming EP "Electric Heat Hypnotized".

The single does not fail to showcase Endless Forms' very distinctive and alluring songwriting skills. As well as creating what feels like a veil of dream-like sensation, the wailing guitars and percussive layers give "Crammed with Heaven" just enough drive to tempt the listeners into following the track's journey.

"The title of this song refers to a line from an Elizabeth Barrett Browning poem. Crammed with Heaven is about the tension of realizing a poetic vision inside a cynical cultural context, to see something amidst others who choose not to see. Being vulnerable on a public stage is embarrassing, and we're generally given more reasons to shrink back from showing such depth of feeling. This song is about recognizing and coming out of that shell."
- Justin Allen / Endless Forms

"Electric Heat Hypnotized" will be released via London based Web3 label DRRT Records, along with official music videos of each track. Partnering with the young label signs a beginning of a new phase for this multi-talented artist who writes, produces, mixes and masters his own work.

CRAMMED WITH HEAVEN will be available on all digital platforms June 17th.

Listen Now

Click to Follow Endless Forms

Contact DRRT Records for any further inquiries:

Adam ~ adam@drtrrecords.com

Alexis ~ alexis@drtrrecords.com

Mark ~ mark@drtrrecords.com

Pink Studio, 2, Old Paradise Yard, 20 Carlisle Lane, London, SE1 7LG

Copyright © 2022 DRRT Records. All rights reserved.

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.